this volume containing selected papers from a conference held by the department of french in the university of cambridge in 1999 addresses the exciting and challenging figure of the shifting border in modern french literature and literary theory using a variety of critical approaches the contributors map the fluctuating borders in specific literary texts and explore how these moving boundaries reflect on their practice of literary analysis inspired by the ideas of european and american thinkers including giorgio agamben jacques derrida julia kristeva jacques lacan and jean françois lyotard they consider three major areas of current concern the construction of identity the conceptualisation of literary genres and the demarcation of geographical and cultural domains applying their insights to a wide ranging corpus of francophone texts this volume analyses the work both of canonical figures such as mallarmé proust and zola and of lesser known writers such as aimé césaire assia djebar and st john perse this book examines the origins and development of nationalism and national movements in the twentieth century and provides an analysis of the nature and dynamics of nationalism and ethnic conflict in a variety of national settings examining the intricate relationship between class state and nation the book attempts to develop a critical approach to the study of nationalism and ethnonational conflict within the broader context of class relations and class struggles in the age of globalization the book consists of three parts made up of seven chapters part i examines classical and contemporary conventional and marxist theories of nationalism part ii provides a series of empirical comparisons of nationalism and ethnic conflict on a world scale focusing on the third world the advanced capitalist countries and eastern europe and the former soviet union a highlight of this section of the book is a detailed comparative case study of the palestinian and kurdish nationalism and national movements part iii provides a political analysis of the relationship between class state and nation and lays out the class nature of nationalism and the role of the state in ethnonational conflicts that are the political manifestations of deeper class struggles that have been the driving force of nationalism and ethnic conflict in the era of globalization berberoglu contends that future studies of nationalism and ethnonational conflict must pay closer attention to the dynamics of class forces that are behind the ideology of nationalism by examining national movements in class terms for only through a careful class analysis of these forces and their ideological edicts will we be able to clearly understand the nature of nationalism and ethnonational conflicts around the world
